MANAGEMENT COMMENT

High Yield risk premiums tightened in September from 276bp to 273bp. Rates continued to rise. The German 10-year rate rose from -0.38% to -0.20%.

The credit market proved particularly resilient at a time when many questions remain. The rise in oil and raw material prices, the problems of production chains and the impact on inflation are sources of disruption for economic growth. Added to this was the crisis in the Chinese real estate sector, including the likely bankruptcy of Evergrande.

On the secondary market we took profits on the Autostrade Per l'Italia bond and initiated a position on the Pasubio group. In the primary market we participated in the launch of the Altice France bond.
