INVESTMENT UNIVERSE AND PHILOSOPHY

The fund MONACO EXPANSION USD invests in both private issuer and sovereign bonds in the "Investment Grade" category which are denominated in USD.

The management is discretionary and conviction based and the fund is diversified across sectors, ratings, interest rate sensitivities and seniorities.

RISK PROFILE

Lower risk/potential reward

Higher risk/potential reward

The risk indicator, based on past volatility, cannot cover all types of risks to which the fund may be exposed. It is possible that the past data used does not constitute a reliable indication of the future risk profile. The category associated with this fund is not a guarantee and can evolve with time. The lowest category is not synonymous with a "riskless" investment.

PERFORMANCE

Past performance is not a guarantee of future performance, nor is it constant with time and does not constitute in any case a guarantee of future performance.

MANAGEMENT COMMENT

In November, the ICE-BOFA 1-10 year US Treasuries index gained 0.29%. The US 10-year yield ended the month at 1.45%, -10bp compared to the end of October 2021.

In the US, members of the Federal Reserve expressed concern about a sustained acceleration in inflation at their last meeting in November, according to the latest published minutes. In November, the Fed began winding down the massive asset purchases put in place during the health crisis to ease the credit market and encourage investment. The process is due to end next June, but several officials want an accelerated withdrawal of quantitative easing to counter the risk of inflation slipping. The Fed cut its securities purchases by $15 billion in November and has indicated that a similar reduction will take place in December.

The fund remains underexposed to US Treasuries and posted a performance of -0.05% last month. We continue to maintain our diversification with corporate credit. The fund's duration remained stable at around 2.55, roughly 35% lower than its benchmark. In the context of the delegation of the management of this fund to Mediobanca SgR, we
