MANAGEMENT COMMENT

High Yield spreads widened sharply in November from 282bps to 323bps. Yields fell, notably the German 10-year benchmark which went from -0.11% to -0.35%.

While inflation uncertainties remain, and while some countries were talking about new containment measures following the increase in cases of the delta variant, the end of the month was marked by the arrival of a new variant of Covid-19: Omicron. The latter led to a sharp rise in market volatility, with a fall in risky assets and a flight to quality. The primary market was active before coming to a halt in this risk-averse environment.

We participated in several new issues (Séché Environnement, DT Lufthansa, BCP, Iccrea Banca, Banca Popolare Sondrio, Accor and Reno de Medici). In addition to these purchases, we reduced the weight of B-rated issuers (Kantar, Fedrigoni, Allied Universal and BPM).
